

Crypto Web Picks

Edition #10

Positive crypto discussions on Reddit in 2023.

Redditors have an enthusiastic view toward cryptocurrencies, as 84% of discussions in 2023 were positive.

Find out more

South Korean public officials have to disclose

The South Korean government announced today that it will implement a unified public official asset disclosure service.

Find out more

Easily Investing In Crypto with vouchers

Crypto vouchers make it easier to invest in cryptocurrencies and are suitable for anyone interested.

Find out more

Online cryptocurrency exchanges, are platforms where users can exchange one cryptocurrency for another.

Find out more

Comprehensive NFT marketing strategies that reach the right online communities, to generate interest is absolutely needed.

Find out more

Fees can be the death of a profitable trading strategy, and unfortunately, trading crypto can be an exercise in encountering hidden charges that eat into hard-won gains.

Find out more

The Financial Intelligence Unit of India (FIU IND) has taken decisive action against these offshore exchanges. Notices have been sent out to these entities, demanding explanations for not registering under India's strict AML and CFT frameworks.

Find out more

There are several high-profile court cases awaiting our attention in 2024, including the fallout from the 2022 crypto contagion. And, of course, there's Craig Wright. But what are the cases to watch in 2024? Find more details in the article.

Find out more

Argentina's president, Javier Milei, has unveiled a bold proposal to implement a favourable tax regime, for crypto assets, making the nations approach for digital assets easier.

Find out more

As a move toward becoming a center for virtual assets, Hong Kong has suggested strict restrictions for stablecoins. But the new change might make things tough for widely used stablecoins.

Find out more

An investigation by Rekt Builder has raised concerns about the extent of data collection by Ledger Live, the official software for managing Ledger hardware wallets. The developer claims that Ledger Live tracks every move users make, including installed apps and the crypto they hold.

Find out more

Cryptocurrency enthusiasts have been captivated by the world of Bitcoin Ordinals and BRC-20 (Bitcoin Request for Comment 20) Tokens, witnessing a dynamic shift within the Bitcoin ecosystem.

Find out more

In the realm of financial trading, technical indicators are tools, helping traders to decipher market trends and forecast future price movements. Incorporating volume, into indicators, elevates their efficacy.

Find out more