

Crypto Web Picks

Edition #13

STR Domains: A New Era of Web3 Addressability

STR Domains convert lengthy and cryptic blockchain addresses into memorable monikers.

Find out more

Blockchain for Digital Rights

The transition to Web 3.0, with decentralization and user-centricity, helps the protection of digital rights.

Find out more

Crypto Payments Soared To Unprecedented Levels

The year 2023 witnessed a remarkable surge in crypto payments, signaling a significant milestone.

Find out more

Numerous prominent figures in various industries took a hit in their investments while trying to capitalize on the NFT trend.

Find out more

European Central Bank allocates over $700m to propel offline digital euro development.

Find out more

Market caps are broadly categorized into three tiers: large-cap, mid-cap, and small-cap. Large-cap cryptocurrencies, with market caps exceeding $10 billion, are considered relatively stable and established.

Find out more

India blocked access to global crypto exchanges, including Binance, KuCoin, and OKX, on Jan. 12. India has instituted an IP block that prevents Indians from accessing the URLs of foreign crypto platforms. Indians are turning to local exchanges.

Find out more

Under a law that is now in the country's parliament, the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS) will be given more authority. In the event that the reforms are approved, crypto companies may be greatly impacted.

Find out more

Cryptocurrencies are often subjected to volatility and pose a risk for traders. To successfully survive in the everchanging landscape and to realize your goals, you need to be aware of crypto indicators.

Find out more

Turkey's crypto regulation seeks to align the country's anti-money laundering laws with the scope of the Financial Action Task Force as it looks to get off the "grey list".

Find out more

In the turbulent world of cryptocurrency, security and efficiency are critical to digital asset management. As the number of people interested in decentralized finance (DeFi) continues to grow, the demand for reliable and secure DeFi wallets has grown significantly.

Find out more

The Australian government's assistant treasurer, Stephen Jones, has stated his intention to query the country's securities regulator over its failure to warn investors about the risks of investing, in Hypervverse.

Find out more

Oracles are very essential in the Defi ecosystem. Blockchains must connect with the external world since blockchain helps eliminate intermediaries and provide financial services through smart contracts.

Find out more