

Crypto Web Picks

Edition #26

Wyoming Greenlights Legal Status for DAOs

Wyoming's governor signed legislation greenlighting the legal status of decentralized autonomous organizations.

Find out more

DAO's for working in Web3

Decentralized organizations are entities designed to operate without a central authority or hierarchy.

Find out more

Chinese Lawyers: We need Crypto Regulation

Chinese lawmakers suggested accelerating legislation on emerging technologies such as blockchain, providing clearer legal guidance.

Find out more

DAO has emerged as a transformative underdog within the blockchain industry, with its distinctive management system. Poised to bring significant changes to the landscape, the DAO model introduces a revolutionary approach through community-driven consensus.

Find out more

The London Stock Exchange announced it will begin accepting applications for Bitcoin and Ether crypto exchange-traded notes by the second quarter of 2024. The exchange affirmed application acceptance per the criteria outlined in its Crypto ETN Admission Factsheet.

Find out more

Crypto lending refers to lending your crypto assets for which you receive interest. Crypto staking refers to locking up your crypto holdings with the motive of earning rewards for the same. Find out the differences of the two in the article.

Find out more

Former U.S. President Donald Trump has declared that his administration will permit Americans to pay for goods and services with Bitcoin if re-elected. Donald Trump issued this statement in a fresh interview with CNBC's Squawk Box on Monday.

Find out more

Dubai's police department partners with the Cardano Foundation, aiming to strengthen security measures globally through blockchain technology.

Find out more

The regulatory sandbox introduced by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (HKMA) is a significant development in the realm of stablecoin regulation.

Find out more

Transitioning from a traditional tech role to a Web3 job can be an exciting and challenging journey for tech professionals seeking to delve into the innovative world of blockchain and decentralized technologies. Find out how, in the article.

Find out more

South Africa is set to become one of the first countries in Africa to mandate licenses for crypto exchanges. Approximately 60 platforms are expected to receive their permits by the end of this month.

Find out more

More than 6700 Bitcoin ATMs exist today. As the market is growing rapidly, there are different pros and cons in using a Bitcoin ATM. Before starting, if you don't know how these ATMs work, here is our guide to learn how to use a Bitcoin ATM.

Find out more