

Crypto Web Picks

Edition #28

Decentralized internet need confidentiality

Today, confidentiality is ingrained on online interactions, and information must be private and secure.

Find out more

Is Invisibility Just a Fantasy?

Invisibility, a concept once relegated to the realms of science fiction might become a tangible reality.

Find out more

Saudi Arabia Transforming Higher Education

Saudi Arabia is updating its higher education to match job market needs, focusing on areas like AI and tourism as part of Vision 2030.

Find out more

Over the years, the Asia Pacific region (APAC) has established itself as an impressive environment for the rapidly growing technology industry. With governments actively embracing blockchain, a highly skilled digital native population, are setting their sights on the region.

Find out more

El Salvador has been buying one bitcoin a day since 2022, according to President Nayib Bukele, who confirmed that his country's "1 bitcoin a day program" will continue until the cryptocurrency "becomes unaffordable with fiat currencies."

Find out more

ERC20 is a standard that allows developers to build their cryptocurrencies on the Ethereum network. It has made it easier for businesses to establish their blockchain services rather than creating their own blockchain starting from scratch.

Find out more

The Nigerian Securities Regulator is introducing new rules for virtual asset service providers (VASPs) operating within the country. These rules will enhance regulation of the crypto industry, focusing on companies that trade, exchange, and transfer virtual assets.

Find out more

What's the key of the most successful traders and crypto investors? They understand the market in-depth, make educated predictions and decisions, identify opportunities, and integrate them within the strategy.

Find out more

Cryptocurrency investors in China have defied government restrictions to emerge as the fourth-largest earners globally in 2023, according to a report by blockchain research firm Chainalysis.

Find out more

Passion is essential for success in any career path, particularly in the landscape of Web3. Understanding and harnessing passion can help individuals navigate the constantly changing landscape of Web3 careers and ultimately achieve their goals.

Find out more

The emergence of cryptocurrencies like Bitcoin and Ethereum is transforming finance. As digital currencies gain mainstream traction, many wonder if crypto can improve their credit.

Find out more

In recent years, India's financial technology (FinTech) sector has experienced an unprecedented surge, reshaping how individuals manage and optimize their personal finances. In the article, you will find FinTech apps, that are revolutionizing the financial landscape.

Find out more