

Crypto Web Picks

Edition #41

EU Crypto businesses: customer due diligence

Crypto-asset service providers (CASPs) will now be monitored, according to new laws passed by the European Parliament.

Find out more

Technology in Crypto and Traditional Investments

The rise of blockchain technology has drastically changed the way transactions are executed and secured.

Find out more

UK Authorities can Seize Crypto Holdings

Authorities in the United Kingdom now have more power to “seize, freeze, and destroy” offenders’ crypto holdings, according to the National Crime Agency (NCA) and police.

Find out more

In a captivating fusion of tradition and innovation, Dubai hosted the Crypto Polo Cup, the landmark event that combines Web3’s revolution with Polo’s prestige. Oobit, Chainswap and Bitcoin.com Teams emerge as winners in a heated competition.

Find out more

Crypto swaps let you directly exchange one coin for another, skipping the need for fiat currency. This simplifies trading and unlocks new opportunities: Boost Efficiency and Diversify Your Portfolio. Find about Centralized vs. Decentralized Swaps.

Find out more

Australia recently witnessed an increase in crypto ATMs following the recent crypto boom. Australia is currently one of the biggest Bitcoin nations. And recently, around 1000 active crypto-fiat machines were recorded.

Find out more

A recent announcement by Footprint Analytics, a trailblazer in blockchain data solutions, marks a pivotal moment, with the firm forging a partnership with Core Chain, an avant-garde Layer 1 blockchain platform powered by Bitcoin.

Find out more

Billionaire investor Anthony Scaramucci, the founder of SkyBridge Capital, recently discussed the viability of financial assets. In the post on X, the SkyBridge Capital founder pointed out that a dollar from 2020 is now only worth about 75 cents, underscoring a significant devaluation due to inflation.

Find out more

Developing countries have long grappled with the challenges of expensive and inefficient economic systems in financial inclusion. One of the most significant impacts of daily-use Web3 payments in developing countries is revolutionizing how money transfers work on macro and micro scales.

Find out more

The lending market for non-fungible tokens (NFTs) has witnessed an unprecedented surge, hitting a quarterly high of $2.13 billion in Q1, a significant 43.6% quarter-over-quarter growth. According to data from CoinGecko, five of the six top platforms are seeing increased volumes.

Find out more

Premier League champions Manchester City has revealed it’s deepening its exploration of the web3 world in collaboration with virtual collectibles platform Quidd. This partnership is about launching the team’s NFT’s.

Find out more